EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Mark Binder on 9/29/2004.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 1, lines 1-2, delete "polymeric materials", insert --a first polymeric body and a second body--.

Claim 1, line 3, before "first polymeric body", delete "a", insert --the--.

Claim 1, line 4, before "second body", delete "a", insert --the--.

Claim 1, line 4, after "fusion bond", delete "site".

Claim 2, line 1, before "polymeric body", insert --second--.

Cancel claims 24-42, which are drawn to an invention non-elected without traverse.

Claim 43, line 6, after "bond", delete "site".

Claim 43, line 15, before "polymeric component", insert --at least one--.

Art Unit: 1734

2. Claims 1-23 and 43-63 are allowed
3. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: While Whitebook discloses many similar steps in terms of controlling laser energy, and Whitebook and Forman individually suggest the details claims 1 and 43, Whitebook is not directed towards forming a bonding between a first polymeric body and a second body, let alone polymeric materials involved in a balloon catheter system. Whitebook is devoted to tissue treatment in medical applications. There is no motivation to use the teachings of Whitebook with the methods of Forman which are directed towards polymeric applications. It is noted that the motivation of Whitebook - prevention of scorching and overheating, is applicable to tissue treatments, while such a concern is different in the bonding of polymeric materials.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
